PARTNERS IN HOPE

Your organization can become a Partner in Hope by becoming Ambassadors. Ambassadors help Loaves & Fishes inspire and engage the community by serving as advocates, volunteering and growing supporters. Serving as an Ambassador is a great way to serve the community where you do business, learn more about the issue of hunger, get to know your neighbors and come together to generally “do good.”

The role of an Ambassador is not to be an expert, but to broadly understand Loaves & Fishes mission and articulate that mission to other organizations. You can actively help other organizations in the community connect with us—through volunteering, donating and advocating. If your organization commits to become educated about the issue of hunger in our community, Loaves & Fishes is committed to keeping you informed and providing you information on the work we do.
